BRITT HELPED TO EXTENT OF $1000.

The sworn statement of Chairman Frank Linney, of the State Republican Executive Committee, as to campaign funds handled thus far shows that he received two checks of $5,000 each from the Republican National Committee and only $52 from other sources. The statement of Chairman Warren, of the Democratic Executive Committee, reports funds handled aggregate $6,793.

Of the Republican funds $1,000 went to help Britt to re-election in the Tenth, $300 each to help Greene in the Ninth, Butler in the Third, Brown in the Seventh, Gilliam in the Fifth, and Williams in the Eighth Congressional Districts. He reports 1,000 contributed by J. M. Morehead toward the Linney candidacy for governor and $100 for the same object by I. M. Meeking.

MURDER WIFE IN PRESENCE OF THREE CHILDREN.

Probably due to a relapse of insanity, Ed. Mangum, a well-known farmer in the Falls of the Neuse section of Wake county killed his wife early Friday with a club and then sent a pistol shot crashing through her brain, this in the presence of three small step-children. Mangum was held in the criminal insane department of the State prison sometime a year ago and was released as normal.

Subsequently he married a widow of Durham county, whose life he took. It was some time after the murder before neighbors found the little orphaned children and lifeless body of the mother in the Mangum home. Shavings and fagots were piled about the body as though the murderer had thought of burning it. Mangum was found at the home of his father and held for the officers.

THE BAPTIST MOVEMENT IN NORTH CAROLINA.

(Contributed.)

Many of the intelligent citizens of our state do not know the size or the spirit of this movement. It is immense and significant. It started in the early days of our history as a state. It was born out of the sincere religious aspirations of a plain pioneer people. But it has outrun the pace of the state in its growth in population, wealth, and culture. It now numbers at least 275,000 white people. This says nothing of over 200,000 Negro Baptists, nothing of thousands of children in Baptist families, nothing of tens of thousands of sympathizers with the Baptist view of Christianity. There are almost as many Baptists in North Carolina as all other church members put together. There are in this state sixty-four Baptist district Associations, over two thousand and one hundred Baptist churches. Still the movement grows by leaps and bounds. At the present rate of increase by 1950 there will be in our state at least 600,000 white Baptists.

Three fourths of the North Carolina Baptist strength is in the country. That puts on Baptist shoulders the bulk of the obligation for religious leadership in the present rejuvenation of our country districts. It is a serious question whether they will measure up to the obligation. The commonwealth has them under test at this point.

Some think that the only peculiarity of Baptists is their mode of baptism. But their distinctiveness runs far deeper than that; baptism is only symbolic. But to them, that is important, just because it is simply a symbol. Right of access of each soul to God, the absolute equality of all believers in Christ, the integrity and sovereignty of each local church, these are some of their fundamental distinctions.

Their faith is the religious underpinning for democracy; the moral foundations of the modern republic.

The Baptist people of North Carolina have already grown many great institutions. The Biblical Recorder, their weekly organ, is read by nearly fifty thousand people during the year. Their state Board of Missions handles annually about $150,000.00. Besides several private schools controlled by Baptists, they have three great colleges, Wake Forest, Meredith, Chowan, and fourteen secondary schools. The Thomasville Orphanage, the pet among their enterprises, is the largest institution of its class in North Carolina and easily one of the largest in all the South. There are thousands of Baptists in Henderson county; and Baptist churches dot every township in the county.

The Baptists of Henderson and adjoining counties will rejoice to see these facts in their county paper. The Baptists of North Carolina count as one of their most valuable assets the friendship of the French Broad Hustler which is read by hundreds of Baptist people who do not see the Biblical Recorder.

The next session of the Baptist State convention meets in Elizabeth city on December 5th. Before that time, there is to be a struggle among the active Baptists of North Carolina. This year they are raising $20,000 for Christian education, $40,000 for the orphanage, $150,000 for missions.

North Carolina Baptists are spending this year in State missions alone, that is in mission work right here in our own State, $55,000. This work is vitally important to the moral, educational, civic life of our whole commonwealth. Here religion and patriotism meet in the Baptist soul. What each Baptist does for the cause shows him both as a Christian and as a citizen. This $54,000 is all to be raised by November 21st. Let every Baptist in Henderson county do his part in this task. Let no Baptist church of the county fail to take it up in dead earnest.

BOOZE BILL DWINDLING.

Cold figures from an unprejudiced source are what really furnish an authentic verdict as to whether increase of dry territory decreases the consumption of alcoholic drinks. The last government fiscal report, including the first half of 1916, shows that there were 2.7 gallons less of intoxicants per capita consumed than in the preceding year. One hundred million dollars less was paid out in twelve months by the American people than during the previous year.

In the consumption of beer there was a decrease of ten gallons for each family. Even with this reduction, Uncle Sam's records show there was a total expenditure for intoxicants in twelve months of over a billion and a half dollars—seventy-five dollars for each family.

A comparison of the money going into the building of churches and liquor-making plants is an interesting side light on the question. In 1905, for every dollar expended for new church buildings there were $2.80 put into new breweries and distilleries. In 1915, for every dollar put into new liquor-making plants there were $38.20 put into building new churches in this country. There were $14,000,000 less invested in the construction of breweries and distilleries in the past ten years than in the decade preceding 1905.

It is now evident that John Barleycorn is mortally hit, but he is working his publicity bureau as never before, to show he is still in the game and that when a State goes dry it becomes wetter!—Farm and Fireside.

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, lookout for you are liable to contract some very serious disease. This succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia, or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere. adv.-Nov

BELIEVES THAT THE GERMANS HAVE SUBMARINE BASES IN U. S.

A lawyer and politician of Machias, who does not wish his name to be mentioned in the matter, has declared recently that it is not only possible but highly probable that there are one or more supply stations for German submarines on the Eastern Maine coast, and gave his reasons for believing the recent rumors to that effect. Said he:

"It is reported that United States destroyers are active along the Maine coast in search of a German submarine station or base. It has also been rumored, and the story will not down, that a wireless station devoted to the interests of the central powers exists somewhere near Mount Desert.

"While many persons smile and shrug their shoulders at these reports, it seems reasonable that Washington must have something more than street talk to impel it to assign half a dozen naval vessels to the duty of patrolling our coast.

"It must be now pretty well understood," this man said, "that the visit of the Deutschland was merely an experiment to ascertain if the transatlantic voyage were possible for undersea craft, and that there is no privately owned line established in Germany to maintain merchant submarine service to this country, and no Bremen, and no America.

"In connection with the departure of the Deutschland, the repeated assertions that the Bremen was approaching our coast and the sudden hunt for submarine stations along these shores, it seems to me that the story of Coast Guardsman Dunn of Cross Island Station early in September should be considered.

"As I remember it, a day or two after the Deutschland left Baltimore, Coast Guardsman Dunn reported that he had seen one or more submarines five miles off Cross Island. While the story was given considerable publicity and excited much newspaper comment, it does not seem to have been considered that the vessel seen by Dunn may have been a supply ship intending to land war materials upon the Washington county coast.

"To anybody who knows the coast of Eastern Maine," this man said, "such a feat does not seem impossible or very improbable. Hundreds of islands and great ledges line the coast, from half a mile to six miles off shore. High cliffs and precipitous rocks rise from deep water everywhere. These islands are entirely uninhabited, used only as sheep pastures, and are seldom visited, even in summer, save when some tourist or fishing party chances to land upon them. In stormy or foggy weather they are almost inaccessible. Their gorges and caverns offer ideal places of concealment and protection of such stores, or supplies as the German U boats would require, which could be discovered only by minute and frequent search of each island.

"May not Mr. Mr. Dunn have been correct in his claim," the Machias man asked. "And if so, who knows how many islands from Mount Desert Rock to Quoddy Head bear a German cache? Of course the story of the explosion at East Machias, where a fishing platform was destroyed, is too silly to be mentioned, but it is not unreasonable to think that a real danger to our neutrality may exist somewhere among the islands of this vicinity."
